

Džemal Cakić was born in Dubrovnik 1970. He started his musical education at the age of six, completed Luka Sorkočević Music High School in Dubrovnik in class of Prof. N. Obradović and graduated from Music Academy in Skopje (under “Cyril and Methodius” Faculty of Music Arts in Skopje, Macedonia). Since 1996 he is a member of Dubrovnik Symphony Orchestra at the position of a trumpet principal. He is also a member of brass quintet “Four Seasons” and jazz player. He participates at numerous jazz festivals. Since 2002, he is part-time teacher at “Luka Sorkočević Music High School”. He dedicates his free time helping young people at their musical education, studying different music styles and relationship between musician – instrument – audiences – production. As a student at Academy, he participated many competitions and won numerous awards. He completed his postgraduate studies in the class of professor mr. Vaso Ristov, at the Faculty of Music Arts "Cyril and Methodius" in Skopje.