Dubrovnik Symphony Orchestra Brass & percussion septet

Members of the B&P septet of DSO are Karmen Pervitić - glockenspiel, Džemal Cakić - flugelhorn, Toni Kursar - horn, Martin Hréan - horn, Damir Butigan - euphonium, Ivan Kušelj - trumpet and Alan Polzer - drums and percussion. The expansion of the ensemble and the variety of sound colors made it possible to enrich and expand the repertoire of classical music, romanticism, film music, jazz, funk, rock, etc.

The ensemble is unique in Croatia and in the world due to its unusual composition, and the trumpet player, composer and arranger Damir Butigan took care of the excellent sound of the ensemble with his arrangements. The repertoire includes various greatest hits of jazz, classical, and film music. The project of ethno-crossover compositions based on folk songs and dances of the Dubrovnik region is definitely one of the highlights of their rich repertoire.

In the summer of 2021, the B&P Septet of the DSO was joined by the the cello principal of the DSO, Vid Veljak, as a guest soloist, and a project of tango and Latin music with works by Piazzola and Ginastera was realized.
